Revision Skincare D·E·J Eye Cream ($97)

Melville, NY dermatologist Kally Papantoniou, MD names this cream her go-to, noting it boasts peptide technology to help rev up collagen production and rejuvenate the skin. “If we improve the quality of our skin and rebuild collagen, this can help reduce the transparency of skin, which helps reduce some of the appearance of discoloration and promotes healthy skin turn over,” she explains. “What is great about this cream is it does not dry out the skin,” adds the expert.

Another fan of this eye cream is New York plastic surgeon Melissa Doft, MD, who agrees this formula is brimming with peptides and antioxidants to help the eye area appear firmer and brighter.

Sircuit Skin I. Cee. U. + ($120)

“This one is a favorite in my office,” says Dr. Doft. “It’s filled with antioxidants and great for tired eyes. It improves tone and lets the eyes appear more lifted.”
