

Dermatologists Name The 8 Best Eye Creams for Lightening Dark Circles

These get the job done.

Whether the issue is dark circles, fine lines or both, getting rid of them around our eyes can't happen quickly enough. However, unfortunately for us, minimizing the appearance of dark circles isn't as easy as it sounds. Chicago dermatologist Carolyn Jacob, MD explains that dark circles form due to a number of factors: "Thin skin, blood-vessel prominence, pigment, and hollowing are the main four," she notes. "The eyelid skin is the thinnest skin on the face, and therefore shows aging the earliest, due to loss of collagen and elastic tissue, which leads to wrinkling, sagging and more thinning."

However, if your prominent eye circles are due to hollowing or something similar, Nanuet, NY dermatologist Heidi A. Waldorf, MD contends a procedure may be required in order to see a significant result. "Hollowing can be addressed with fillers such as hyaluronic acid and we are currently conducting a trial on the treatment of infraorbital hollows," adds Dr. Jacob.
